

-Barrie Family Medicine Low Risk Obstetrics Group-

We are a team of family physicians in Barrie who provide comprehensive, patient-centred and evidence-based obstetrical care. We see patients during pregnancy and for labour/delivery who are referred to us by their own family physician or by various other local clinics ie. walk-in clinic, hospital emergency department, prenatal clinic. Patients are seen for prenatal care at our individual office locations and babies are delivered at Royal Victoria Regional Health Centre (RVH).

Our approach to childbirth involves using only necessary interventions to achieve a healthy and natural pregnancy and birth. We guide our patients through the natural process of birth, while providing the skills and expertise to deal with emergencies that can arise. Most often the family physician caring for you during your pregnancy is able to personally be present for your labour and delivery.

We work as part of an interdisciplinary team that includes nurses, anesthesiologists, obstetricians, social workers and lactation consultants. In the event that your pregnancy becomes 'high risk', your care may need to be transferred to an obstetrician. In most cases we remain involved for the duration of your pregnancy and often are able to attend and assist caesarean sections for our patients.

Following the delivery of your baby, you and your baby will return to the care of your primary care provider/family physician.
